Claims 15-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Applicant's specification does provide an adequate description of this 3rd signaling connection, by linking the 1st and 2nd signaling connections between the subscribers. It seems to examiner that there would be no need to link the 1st and 2nd signaling connections to form a 3rd signaling connection. Rather, once the server has determined that the 2nd subscriber is capable of answering a phone call, the server will automatically set up a voice line (the bearer channel) between the subscribers, without needing a 3rd signaling connection. If applicant insists that this 3rd signaling connection is set up, they haven't even defined what the signaling messages are, e.g., SIP INVITE, that make up this 3rd signaling connection. Applicant's drawings do not show this 3rd signaling connection.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 2614

Claims 15-34 as understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Vilander '987.
